NEW BRIGHTON.

The Republican Congressional Conference—Personal Notes—Death of a Clergyman's Wife—The Public Schools, &c.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW BRIGHTON, October 7, 1874.

A Political Flutter.

When the Republican conferees for this Congressional District were in session here last week, having had two or three other unsuccessful meetings before at other places, and this one likely to be like its predecessors, the startling news was flashed around that word had come from the County Committee that the Beaver county conferees would be withdrawn at nine o'clock that evening, and a new committee substituted! What does this mean? Who gave them the authority? What is the use of primary meetings? Where are the rights of the people? were some of the ejaculations. Many of them speak of it as a scheme to defeat their nominee for Congress. And they appear more and more confirmed from day to day in this conviction. And we have been told to-day by some of the leading politicians that now unless their nominee is chosen there will be many votes made for the opposition candidate, who is regarded as a very respectable man. They talk like men in earnest. And whatever may be said of others, it is certainly true that Major Critchlow is very generally estimated as a man of fair culture and an incorruptible Christian gentleman.

We understand the conferees are to meet again on Friday next. That meeting will likely be the final one.

Other Political Personnels.

This town is well represented in the political arena of this county. Mr. Farley, the Democratic nominee for Congress, is a respectable gentleman, a little beyond middle life, and has filled the office of freight agent here for fifteen or twenty years.

We have the County Treasurer, Mr. Mann, whose moral and business rectitude are widely known.

We have also the County Coroner, Mr. Corbus, who is attentive and faithful to the duties of his office.

Here resides also Dr. Wendt, the Republican candidate for the Assembly, a man scarcely yet in his fullest vigor, and in every way standing fair before the community as a Christian citizen.

We have also among us Mr. Bradford, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor on the Prohibition ticket. He is in the maturity of his manhood. He is a man of superior business and intellectual attainments. He has thoroughly canvassed the temperance question, and whatever may be thought of his conclusions, he is deeply sincere, and would do honor to the proposed office.

We must not fail to mention ex-Sheriff General Erwin. He has, for some time, been prostrated with a serious sickness. When last heard from he was convalescent. We hear frequent expressions of sympathy for himself and family.

A Clergyman's Wife Dead.

The wife of Rev. Mr. Tayler, formerly rector of the Episcopal church in this place, died yesterday morning at 12:20 A. M. The funeral will take place from the Episcopal church on Broadway at two o'clock this afternoon.

The Public Schools.

The public schools have commenced with an unusually large attendance. The whole school is officered by female teachers. And principal and all are making a good record. But, Oh! the shocking annoyance of having the building located on the side of a double railroad track, over which pass about sixty-two trains every twenty-four hours.

Massachusetts Republican State Convention.

GOV. TALBOT RENOMINATED.

The Platform Opposed to Currency Inflation.

WORCESTER, MASS., October 7.—The Massachusetts Republican State Convention met at noon to-day. Geo. B. Loring called the Convention to order, and read the call under which the delegates were chosen. Mr. Loring was chosen temporary chairman. It was ordered that committees be appointed on permanent organization, credentials and resolutions. Mr. Biscoe, from the Organization Committee, reported Henry L. Dawes for President, with a list of Vice Presidents.

A committee of three—appointed to wait on Mr. Dawes, inform him of his selection, and escort him to the chair—retired, and soon after returned with Mr. Dawes, who took the chair amid applause, and called upon the Rev. C. D. Hills, who offered prayer.

Mr. Dawes then proceeded to address the Convention. At the conclusion of his speech it was agreed that at the completion of the ballot for Governor, the Convention take a recess until half-past two o'clock.

The result of the first ballot was as follows: Whole number of votes cast, 1,042, of which Mr. Talbot had 775, Mr. Loring 198, Charles Devens, Jr., 51, John E. Sanford, of Taunton, 20, B. F. Butler, 16, E. R. Hoar and Mr. Dawes each one.

Alexander H. Rice said the unanimity of the vote was a testimonial of the confidence of the Convention in Mr. Talbot, and moved that his nomination be made unanimous.

The delegates from Fall River requested that a vote be taken, and only half a dozen or so dissented. Mr. Talbot's nomination was declared unanimous.

The Convention reassembled at 2:30, and proceeded to ballot for Lieutenant Governor. The tellers reported for Lieutenant Governor: Whole number, 1,102; necessary to a choice, 807. Patrick Donahue, Milo Hildreth and E. B. Stoddard received one each; Geo. B. Loring, 8; Chas. P. Stickney, of Fall River, 271; Alfred Macy, of Nantucket, 286; Horatio G. Knight, of East Hampton, 443. Knight was then nominated by acclamation. Oliver Warner was named by acclamation for Secretary of the Commonwealth. Chas. R. Train was nominated by acclamation for Attorney General. Chas. Endicott was nominated by acclamation for Auditor. Chas. Adams, Jr., of North Brookfield, was nominated unanimously as Treasurer.

The Committee on Resolutions reported as follows:

The Republicans of Massachusetts, proud of the record of their party, reaffirm their devotion to the great principles of justice upon which it was founded, and they pledge their best and constant endeavors to the maintenance of those principles in the future. Be it, therefore,

Resolved, That sound currency is indispensable to national prosperity, and that to this end the nation must make its "demand promises to pay" equal to gold, which is the recognized standard of value in the whole civilized world, and that it is the further duty of Congress to adopt such measures as shall lead to this realization of value, and that no inflation of the currency by adding to Government issues should be permitted.

Second. That Massachusetts has seen with abhorrence the attempt through banded leagues to deprive whole classes of our population of their constitutional prerogatives, and as the amplest protection of the individual in his civil rights and privileges is the great duty of the National Government, therefore, as Republicans, reaffirming our abiding faith in the fundamental rights and exact equality of the citizen before the law in its largest sense, we express our gratitude to the President of the United States for his prompt interference against an effort of usurpation over a recognized State Government, and for his determined opposition towards all movements and combinations seeking to abridge, limit or restrain the rights of any portion of the American people.

Third. That the Republican party of Massachusetts demands, and will require of all persons holding office, whether National, State or municipal, an administration of the Government which shall conform to the highest standard of honesty, integrity and economy, to the end that the public indebtedness may be honorably and speedily paid and the burden of taxation lightened.

Fourth. That the record of the Republican party of Massachusetts is a sufficient guarantee of its continued sympathy with that legislation which will promote the best interests of the laborer and tend to the moral and intellectual elevation of all persons engaged in industrial pursuits.

Fifth. That the Republican party has proved itself under all circumstances the party of progress and reform, that it has shown itself ready and prompt to correct all abuses and bring its own servants to a strict account for unfaithfulness in official conduct, that it denounces all laws and practices that open a way for corruption in the public service, and that it will demand of all its servants that their official position shall never be made subservient to their personal aggrandizement.

The last resolution commends the nominees to the suffrages of the people. The resolutions were adopted, the usual vote of thanks passed, and the Convention adjourned sine die.

In this county about 1,700 votes were polled, giving a Democratic majority of 1,500.

LOUISIANA.

Stormy Session of the Advisory Board.

NEW ORLEANS, October 7.—The Advisory Board held a stormy session to-day, lasting five or six hours. Mr. Packard introduced a resolution stating that White Leagues were still being organized and armed, and calling for their disbandment. This resolution was rejected, and the following, offered by E. A. Burke, was adopted:

WHEREAS, It has been reported to the Advisory Board that armed organizations have recently been drilling in the streets of New Orleans.

AND WHEREAS, The effect of such demonstrations in any part of the State is calculated to create apprehension of intimidation in the minds of the colored people of the State.

AND WHEREAS, The continuance of such demonstrations would be in violation of the true spirit and intention of the agreement creating the Advisory Board; be it

Resolved, That the Advisory Board declare the absolute necessity and propriety of preventing such demonstrations, and requesting such immediate action as well relieve all citizens from apprehension that would in any way interfere with a free, full and fair registration and election.

Judge McKeon's Charge to the Salt Lake Grand Jury—He Urges Them to Look Into the Institution of Polygamy.

SALT LAKE, October 7.—Judge McKeon, in his charge to the Grand Jury to-day, calls attention to acts of past Legislatures unlawfully disposing of valuable tracts of lands, extensive water privileges and timber lands to Brigham Young, and other persons. In consequence of these enactments settlers were forcibly dispossessed of their rights, many even murdered or thrown into the Jordan river. He urges the Grand Jury to look carefully into the institution of polygamy, bring some of the most influential polygamists to the bar of justice, to bear in mind that polygamy goes hand in hand with the murderous doctrine of blood atonement, and look more vigilantly after the principals than agents.

A Tribute to the Late Commodore Woolsey.

WASHINGTON, October 7, 1874.

Alabama Claims.

The Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims, in session every day since Thursday last, adjourned to-day till November 5th, no cases being ready for the hearing. The Court has occupied its time revising the rules and adding new ones growing out of suggestions of counsel. The Judges are very anxious that when the Court again meets, it may have something on which to act.

The Death of Commodore Woolsey.

The Navy Department has issued the following general order relative to the death of Commodore Woolsey:

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, October 4, 1874.

Commodore Melancthon B. Woolsey, of the United States navy, died of yellow fever while in command of the Navy Yard at Pensacola on the 2d inst. In announcing to the naval service the loss of this officer, the department feels called upon to express its appreciation of the high character which Commodore Woolsey gained during the War of the Rebellion and of the self-sacrificing spirit he evinced during the deadly pestilence which has lately desolated the Pensacola Navy Yard. When under orders to proceed to the North upon important service after the fever had broken out in the town of Pensacola, but not within the yard, he suggested to the department that he had better remain with his command. He was informed that even under such circumstances he might properly comply with his orders; but he replied that he preferred to remain at his post. Remaining there, he died a martyr to his sense of duty. He has thus bequeathed to many an example of heroism such as may occur in peaceful days and of devotion to his duty that cannot be excelled in time of war.

WILLIAM RANDALL,
Acting Secretary of the Navy.

The Government's Menagerie.

The Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds says the President presented to his office a handsome specimen of an American eagle, sent to him from Wisconsin. The bird is now encaged in Franklin Square. As specimens of animals are frequently offered from officials and private individuals, he suggests that an appropriation be made to provide for receiving such contributions, which would be a source of entertainment to the people of the Capital and those visiting it, besides being of great value to students of natural history.

Troops Needed in the South.

General Sheridan was to-day notified by the Secretary of War that if he could spare a regiment of infantry from his command to send it South, for service in that section. Applications are constantly reaching the Department from Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana for troops. The Secretary says: "If I were required to comply with all the applications received, it would be necessary to largely increase the forces of the army."

The Freedmen's Saving Bank.

According to an analysis of the statement of Dr. Purvis, one of the commissioners appointed to settle the affairs of the Freedmen's Savings Bank, there will be a loss of from three to four hundred thousand dollars on insufficient securities and loans, which in the course of a long time may yield seventy-five per cent. to depositors.

Improvement of Public Grounds.

The report of General Babcock, Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, shows a vast extent of improvement of public grounds during the past year. His total of estimate for the next fiscal year is nearly four hundred thousand dollars.

National Bank Note Redemption.

The Redemption Bureau will not resume the redemption of National Bank notes until probably the 20th instant. Redemption might be commenced now, but the Treasury desires to perfect such arrangements as will make the business continuous.

Austrian Arctic Expedition.

The Story of the Voyage.

Unknown Land Discovered.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The Tribune tomorrow publishes a long letter from Hamburg, giving an account of the reception of the returned Austrian Arctic explorers at a meeting of the Geographical Society. Captain Weyprecht, the leader of the expedition, related

The Story of the Voyage.

He told how they sailed from Bremen, and first encountered ice, and how they struggled and battled with it. In the autumn of 1872 they were firmly enclosed and frozen in. At one time they had thirty feet of ice under the keel, and were in a region of intense cold. They drifted slowly, though not with irregularity, and were perfectly helpless. No power of steam, or sails, or men could do anything against the ice of the north, and they were quite at its mercy. The summer brought them no release. They made and discovered land hitherto unknown, which they christened "Franz Josef's Land," in honor of their Emperor. When Lieut. Payer returned to the ship from his last expedition, it was necessary to consider the question of abandoning the Tegethoff. The ship was finally blocked in ice, and was lurching so much that it became necessary to shore her up with spars. There was no prospect of an escape, and no prospect that by remaining longer they could accomplish much more; besides the loss of the ship was quite probable in the crushing and heaving of the ice, or if this should happen in winter the destruction of the entire party was inevitable. So it was decided to return to Europe, and on the 20th of last May they left the ship with boats drawn upon sledges.

Excursions with Sledges,

A Terrible Journey.

The way was terrible. They had to break down hummocks with axes and picks so as to make a road for the sledges, and they did not make a nautical mile in twenty-four hours. Sometimes they could not stand, and were forced to crawl over a rough way, and as they approached broken water they found there ice which could not support them standing, and where they were again forced to crawl. Several days after leaving the ship, a part of them returned to get a smaller boat. They found everything safe in the vessel, and Capt. Wayprecht thinks it not impossible that she may yet be saved. Through the broken water they made their way with many hardships, and at last reached open water. Once on the sea, they made the best of their way southward, rowing by relays at the rate of about forty miles a day. They were picked up by a Russian fishing smack, and treated with every kindness.

Lieutenant Payer spoke of his discovery of "Franz Josef's Land," which he describes as very rough, with a reddish gray beach showing through the snow, and with mountains of various heights up to 3,000 or 4,000 feet.

THE FIRST FRUITS.

A Large Sale of Refined Oil—The Oil to be Shipped to Baltimore—More Orders Coming—What the Prospects Are.

That the oil refiners mean business in the movement to obtain another outlet to the seaboard for their product, was demonstrated yesterday by the confirmation of a sale of some 6,000 barrels of refined oil for Baltimore. The sale was made through Mr. Leo Oppenheimer, broker on Duquesne Way, Messrs. Jno. B. Tilford & Co., of New York, being the buyers. Later in the day Mr. Oppenheimer received another order for 5,000 barrels more.

The advantage to the Pittsburgh refiners by this new route to the seaboard will be seen by the following comparative statement: Freight on 6,000 barrels of refined oil to Philadelphia, via the Pennsylvania Railroad at $1,75 per barrel is $10,500. Freight on 6,000 barrels refined oil to Baltimore via the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Road, 80 cents per barrel, $4,800, leaving a net profit in the hand of refiners, on freight alone, of the large sum of $5,700.

Six thousand barrels of oil is not the third part of one days' refining capacity of this city, and when the market for our Pittsburgh oil is fully established in Baltimore, and our refineries in full operation, at least twenty thousand barrels of oil can be delivered daily at the Connellsville depot by pipe line and teams. Messrs. Tilford, & Co., are extensive oil operators of New York, and very reliable men. They are the first to take hold of the Pittsburgh trade, and promise to make Baltimore the leading export market of the country, and Pittsburgh the oil center. All they desire is the assistance and co-operation of our people to build up a trade which will add yearly, millions to our wealth.

European Steamship Arrivals.

A dispatch received at Max Schamberg's European Steamship and Telegraph Office, at 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the steamer Caledonia, at New York; Holsatia, at New York; Russia, New York; Elysia, at Moville.

A few days ago we clipped from the Monongahela Republican and published a news item to the effect that a soldier of the late war had been left $50,000 in Government bonds by a man whose life he had saved in a hospital where both parties were for a time during the rebellion. We are in receipt of the following to be published in connection with it. It is mysterious, but the party refuses at this time to say any thing more:

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION—A HOSPITAL AND THE WHOLE OF WARRENTOWN NEARLY BLOWN UP.

Upon a certain well known evening a large concourse of people met at Warrentown for the purpose of attending a Republican meeting, and it having become pretty late in the night when the assembly adjourned, the party found it necessary and, unanimously agreed, to spend the remainder of the night at the meeting place. But as they had not fully turned off the gas lights, to light a match would inevitably have resulted in a fearful explosion; all would have perished had it not been for good young Billy! He was awakened from his sleep by apparent sounds of frogs, and upon looking to his friends, he found them in convulsions; their heads burned with fever, and they were coughing fearfully; some complained of seeming attacks of the cholera, whilst others complained of frost and fever. Billy listened to their moanings for awhile, but as he was not a doctor, he could not do anything and therefore again laid down, but could not sleep. Whilst he was thus trying to go asleep, he heard the whistling of imaginary birds, and immediately regarded it as the omen of God! His friends were crying for help, as they would perish if not helped soon. He heard their cries, jumped up, took two pieces of wet bread, laid one piece on the back of his head and under his nose, drank a cup of salt water, and after wrapping some wet cloth around his head, he grappled in the dark for the gas pipe. This he found and turned off the gas fully! In the morning his friends were there with bloodshot eyes, some half dead from the fever and cholera; others had lost their senses for a time from the effects of the gas. Some people said that it had been the strangers who came from Wheeling, and intended to blow up the whole of Watertown; others said a band of robbers who have been playing their vocations there for the last twelve years, had tried to explode the place for the purpose of robbing the strangers of their estates in the different counties and States. After all had improved, they got in their carriages and rode off—waiving their handkerchiefs and giving three hearty cheers for Billy.

Billy is a well-known citizen. THS.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1874.

BONDS at Frankfort 97⅞.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 25¼f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110.

THE rise of the river Nile, that source of fertility to Egyptian lands, is unusually great this year, and some lands have been overflowed. The danger, however, is thought to have passed, and the subsidence of the river will soon begin. The great rise is the assurance of a prosperous harvest.

BERGH and one of the New York papers are engaged in a learned discussion of "vivisection," a sprightly topic that seems to be in process of heated treatment. The one views the subject from a philanthropic standpoint, and believes that science is not benefited sufficiently by vivisection to require the practice to be kept up. The other, while not fully denying the proposition, thinks it is not proven. So they vivisect each other.

THE Von Arium trouble in Germany evidently has some secret, as well as public phases. It is understood that ecclesiastical views are mixed up with it, and the course of the Government toward the Count and his son will be very likely to arouse sympathy in their behalf. The ostensible difficulty at the present is the claim of the government to the possession of certain letters of commendation, written the Count, while Minister at Paris. These have been concealed, and the Count has been arrested. The whole affair looks like a petty and revengeful persecution.

WE are not to be put in the attitude of defending the State Ring; nor, on the other hand, will we allow the plans or purposes of the State Ring to be fastened on the Republican party, and represented as its action. Whatever may have been the purpose of the Ring in making its nominations for the Legislature, so far as the new Constitution is concerned,—and we know nothing about them,—the Republican party has no purpose to have any good feature of that Constitution cut out, by means of some artful amendment. So far as all this goes, the Post has at hand a very effectual method of avoiding the danger, if this is what it seeks. One of the most able and influential members of its party is a member of the Commission to amend the new Constitution; let him be watched. The danger is not in the Legislature, but in that Commission. We do not ascribe to the Ring the large measure of influence accorded it by the Post, and know that it does not control the Allegheny Legislative delegation.

AS FRIENDS of Colonel Bayne, desiring his election, and wishing all his friends to work judiciously for him, we feel called on to protest against the course of the Commercial in making attacks on men like Rev. Dr. Howard, and even assailing opprobriously Mr. Purviance. We do not favor their movement, but we realize, perfectly, that the course of the Commercial will only serve to take votes from Colonel Bayne, and add to Mr. Purviance's chances. We are very confident the responsible editor of the Commercial would not do this, were he at home, and are surprised that so little political sagacity is shown, as is illustrated in such publications. Can it possibly be that the Commercial is really antagonistic to Colonel Bayne, and takes this method of compassing his defeat? It looks very like. However much Mr. Purviance's movement may be opposed as irregular, and as tending to endanger the interests and welfare of the Republican party, it is not wise to assail him personally, or men like Rev. Dr. Howard. And certainly no friend of Colonel Bayne will do this.

WHILE it is not absolutely certain that Don Carlos has died of the wounds received at Durango, the probabilities are that he has. If so, may we not hope, in the interest of humanity, that the class of people who think themselves entitled to make war, and devastate portions of country, and cause the death of innocent persons, simply because the right of a throne is claimed, in virtue of family associations, will keep quiet hereafter? The claim of Don Carlos to the Spanish throne rested on the trivial fact that some of his ancestry once occupied it. It was not thought that the people wanted him, and it was known that his family had been driven from the throne years before, and others had since occupied it. Just now the people of Spain think that they can get along without any one in that honored position. The claim to a throne, in virtue of a divine right, is in itself extremely silly. As well set up a divine right to a piece of property. There are quite many kinglings and princelings in Europe that need to learn that their true policy is to set to work, as do other mortals, and strive to be useful rather than ornamental. If the death of the adventurer king, Carlos, shall impart this lesson, he will not have died in vain.

WORDS OF REASON.

We realize, as clearly as any, that the people generally are of a more independent mood, this year, as regards political action, than has been the case for many years past. Few persons pretend to closely and accurately predict the outcome of the pending election, as regards some phases of the popular vote. The people are not satisfied with all the nominations made, on either of the party tickets. They think the Republican party had better material to select from, and that it ought to have been at the pains to have selected a better Legislative ticket, to say the least. This county is so largely Republican, that when such a feeling is developed, it wears the aspect of a general defection toward the ticket. Yet we wish our friends to pause, and ask themselves two questions: 1. Is the Democratic ticket, as a whole, better? 2. Has the Democratic party done anything, of late years, that should accredit it with the Republican party, and call for the votes of our people? We have not the slightest hesitancy in saying that the Republican State ticket is, in every particular, superior to that of the Democracy. While there are a few inferior names on the Republican Legislative ticket, there are other names that are infinitely superior to the best on the Democratic ticket. They have had experience, have shown themselves faithful to the best interests of the people, and tried in the crucible of the Harrisburg Legislature, have not been found wanting. Not a man on the Democratic Legislative ticket has been tried, and none of them have had the experience necessary to render them efficient. In any event, there is much weak, inefficient, and untrustworthy element on that ticket, and none better than the best element on the Republican ticket. These are facts. With this knowledge we ask whether there is anything in the Democratic record worthy of confidence and support? Has that party ever repented its course during the Rebellion? Has it ever ceased to fight every measure, looking to the securing to the colored race the fruits of the war,—freedom and the franchise? Does it not now oppose the Civil Rights bill? Can it, by possibility, represent Republican ideas? We answer, no; and urge our friends that there should be nothing done to help it.

As a rule, it is as unwise for the adherents to break ranks in the presence of the enemy as it would be for an army to be broken while in the heat of battle. At the primaries, and in conventions, it is right and proper to make a struggle, and to use every honorable endeavor to gain a point. But the nomination made, and the rule should be to sustain those who are honorably nominated, unless the gravest reasons exist for breaking away. No questions of personal preference or individual prejudice should govern. The public aspects of the subject only should be considered. We have no purpose, however, to read our friends a homily on the subject, trusting that the well-tried Republicans of Allegheny county will carefully consider their duty, and perform it in the light of all the facts.

FACTS AND LESSONS.

We yesterday gave, in our financial column, the import and export statistics for the year ending June 30, 1874, showing a balance of trade in favor of this country. For the last six years the showing is as follows,—exports and re-exports being combined in one statement:

Year.	Imports.	Exports.
1868-9	$437,314,255	$343,212,038
1869-70	462,356,163	450,946,075
1870-1	541,493,708	543,504,172
1871-2	640,338,766	523,155,120
1872-3	663,617,147	607,088,456
1873-4	595,861,248	653,032,494

The gold and silver coin and bullion, for the same period, exports and re-exports, being united, is as follows:

Year.	Imports.	Exports.
1868-9	$19,807,876	$57,138,380
1869-70	26,368,079	57,152,725
1870-1	21,270,024	98,441,988
1871-2	13,743,689	79,877,534
1872-3	21,480,937	84,608,594
1873-4	28,454,906	66,630,405

In the six years under mention, we have exported, out of our own gold supply, $313,700,000, or at the rate of $52,243,333.33 yearly—something less than our average gold product. Our net export last year was $38,175,479. With these facts before it, the New York Tribune is moved to say: "We are told that it is out of the question for the United States to have a paper currency convertible into the precious metals on demand! It lies within the power of the United States Treasury at any moment to stop this outflow of specie, and turn the current the other way. By merely stopping the regular weekly purchases of greenbacks and allowing the surplus revenue from customs to accumulate in the Treasury, gold would be drawn from the Bank of England to New York within ninety days." This is such a preposterous statement that it is worthy of a moment's examination. Why do we send gold to Europe, and how can we stop the outflow? Does it depend on the greenback circulation or not? The presumption runs through the above quotation that somehow the export of gold is governed by the amount of greenbacks in circulation in this country. Yet the premium on gold is now much less than when Secretary McCulloch had retired $44,000,000 of greenbacks. If the Tribune theory is correct, gold should have more nearly approximated greenbacks then than now. Yet the only result of the contracting policy was to put a pressure on our merchants that came near ruining them.

We send gold to Europe for two purposes—to pay our excess of imports, and the interest on our bonds owned abroad. So long as we owe Europe, or, to state it differently, so long as our bonds are held abroad, we must send gold to pay interest. This certainly is clear. If, in addition to this, we import more than we export, we must either send gold to pay the deficit or send more bonds, thus plunging deeper into debt. If, on the other hand, we export of goods or produce more than we import, we have just so much less gold to send. That is, if we owe $1,000,000,000 to Europe, on which we pay an average interest of six per cent., we must send $60,000,000 in gold to pay interest; but, if we export $20,000,000 of goods or produce more than we import, we need send but $40,000,000 in gold. This is the philosophy of the entire business. We have overimported, and so have sent all the gold we could spare, and made up the balance of our deficit with interest-bearing bonds. It must be self-evident that the volume of greenbacks can have nothing to do with this transaction. If we can regulate our trade with Europe, so that our exports shall overbalance our imports, we prevent the export of gold; and as our mines produce about $60,000,000 of gold annually, it must follow that we can thus accumulate gold sufficient to begin specie payments. Last year our net export of gold was less than $40,000,000. Why?

The answer is contained in two facts. Our manufactories had begun, before the panic, and have continued since, to so nearly supply the home demand, that Europe could not sell to us. The falling off in exports was in iron and steel, cotton goods, woolen goods, silk goods, and linen goods, in the imports of which there was a shrinkage, last year, of about $50,000,000 as compared with each of the two preceding years. On the contrary, in tea, coffee, sugar and molasses, over imports, last year increased about $10,000,000 as compared with each of the two preceding years,—thus clearly showing that something prevented the imports of the one, while the other increased. This was the increase of home manufactures. Of our exports, cotton fell off about $16,000,000 as compared with the preceding year, while wheat and wheat flour increased about $60,000,000. But little change is expected in the relative bearing of our foreign trade this year, and hence we should have a balance in our favor of about $50,000,000. Thus because we imported less, and exported more, we were compelled to send less gold to Europe.

Of course, this cannot produce its legitimate result at once. Until we see that this promises to be permanent, it will not impart confidence; but this aside, and it has in it the solution of our financial troubles. As we buy less from Europe, and sell more, we send abroad less gold; and the less our export of gold, the more we can lay by for the resumption of specie payments. As we produce $60,000,000 of gold annually, and have, say, $150,000,000 in stock, it follows that if we can, for two years, keep all our gold and send none abroad, we will be prepared to resume; or, if we send $30,000,000 abroad yearly, in four years we will reach this point, provided, always,, that $300,000,000 in gold is considered a safe basis for specie resumption. But to attempt it by calling in greenbacks is of a piece with the wisdom of the man who tried to lift himself over the fence by pulling at his boot-straps. We must have enough currency in the country for business needs, and resumption cannot obliterate that fact.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE Republicans of Montour county have nominated the following ticket: Congress—Hon. Charles Albright; Assembly—James Cruikshank.

EDWARD G. PARSONS, of Louisville, Ky., nominated by the Democrats for Congress, is a young man, son of a clergyman, and a graduate of the Louisville High School.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS is not to have the course alone, in his Georgia district. The name of William Henry Harrison is put up against him. The bearer of the name is a colored person.

ROBERT SMALL, the colored pilot who, during the war, escaped from Charleston harbor with his vessel, and surrendered it to the Union forces, is a candidate for Congress in the Charleston district.

THE Conservative papers of Tennessee all declare that Senator Brownlow has the inside track for Congress in the IId District of that State. There are two other Republican candidates and a Democratic candidate.

EX-PRESIDENT JOHNSON made a speech at Shelbyville, Tenn., on Tuesday, in defence of newspaper charges that he was "an ex-Republican President, and in favor of the repudiation of State and National obligation"

THERE's treason in Jersey. The Passaic City Herald, Democratic organ, calls on Judge Bedle to "step down and out," and proposes the nomination of General George B. McClellan as the Democratic candidate for Governor.

THE South Carolina Convention of Independents nominated Judge John T. Green for Governor, and Martin P. Delaney, a leading colored man, for Lieutenant-Governor. The new party has begun the canvass with a good deal of spirit.

HON. JAS. BLACK, of Lancaster, has been placed in nomination as the Prohibition candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, in place of Mr. Simeon B. Chase, of Susquehanna county. Mr. Black was the Prohibition candidate for President in 1872.

THE Republican conferees of the Fifteenth Congressional district, comprising the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna, Wyoming and Wayne, after a session of two days at Tunkhannock, on Thursday nominated Bartholomew Laporte, of Bradford, as their candidate for Congress.

THE registration in Philadelphia shows over one hundred and sixty thousand voters, an increase of twelve thousand over last year. The poll will probably not show over one hundred and twenty-five or thirty thousand. The registration generally shows more voters than there are votes polled.

THERE's a Democratic Congressional nominee in Wisconsin who promises, if elected, to come back at the end of his term with his pockets full of gold, to a constituency who shall also be receiving gold for their produce. We haven't the slightest doubt that the first part of his prediction will be verified if he should chance to be elected.

THE Republican Convention of Dauphin county met in Harrisburg Tuesday, and made the following nominations:—Congress, John B. Packer; Senator, A. J. Herr; Assembly, Jos. H. Nisley, A. Fortenbaugh, R. R. Chrisman; Additional Law Judge, R. M. Henderson; District Attorney, Jno. B. M'Pherson; County Commissioner, Jno. L. Garver; Director of the Poor, Amos Fisler; County Surveyor, Wm. H. Ulrich; County Auditor, John K. McGann.

PERSONAL.

MR. CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER and his wife sail to-day for Egypt.

POTTER PALMER, of Chicago, has just subscribed $1,000 to the Centennial.

THE business partners of Moulton became his bondsmen in the Beecher slander suit.

THE report that the Emperor William has declined to visit Rome this autumn is contradicted.

A FAMILY of Smiths at Terre Haute, was recently increased by the simultaneous advent of four little Smiths, all boys, and each weighing 7 1-2 pounds.

THE Hon. A. H. Stephens, though still in good health, continues to make long public speeches which are warmly praised by his admiring fellow-citizens.

MRS. GOODWIN, of Alabama, granddaughter of ex-President Tyler and daughter of Cooper, the tragedian, gave readings recently in Baltimore. The lady was well received and acquitted herself most creditably.

SHERIDAN, Pitt and Fox, says the Athenæum, all drank hard and worked hard. The pet statesmen of the past generation, they were all great in the council of the nation, but not one of them could rule his own household.

THE Rev. Newman, Inspector of Consulates, having in his perigrinations reached the shores of the Euphrates, states that he found a telegraph office on the spot where the daughters of Judah hung their harps on the willows.

A PRIVATE letter from the Hon. Joseph Medill, dated Sept. 19, states that it was his intention to sail for New York about Oct. 1, with the expectation of reaching home about the middle of the month. His family will remain in Europe for the present.

THE Lord Mayor of Dublin delivered a lecture last Tuesday evening in the Academy of Music, New York city, for the benefit of the Catholic Church—subject, "Oliver Goldsmith." At the close of the lecture the Lord Mayor was presented with a gold-headed cane, and later, at his hotel, was honored with a serenade on behalf of the city authorities.

IT IS announced that Mr. Disraeli will arrive in Dublin on a visit to Colonel Taylor towards the end of the month, having previously visited Belfast and spent some days at Baronscourt with the Lord Lieutenant. His tour in Ireland, according to present intentions, is to be of a private nature, but some of the public bodies are already contemplating a possibly more public appearance of the right honorable gentleman and the presentation to him of addresses of welcome to Ireland.

ST. ANGE LIEVRE, a Catholic priest of Biel, Switzerland, in announcing his betrothal to a Protestant lady, says: "I marry because I wish to remain an honorable man. In the sixteenth century it was a proverbial expression to say 'as corrupt as a priest,' and this might be said to-day. I marry, therefore, because I wish to get out of the Ultramontane slough. During the last two years sixty-seven Roman Catholic priests have been convicted of immorality in France and Switzerland. In view of such facts, he says it is the right time to restore by marriages the good name of the Roman priesthood".

GEORGE WASHINGTON BOWEN, of Providence, who claimed to be the illegitimate son of Madame Jumel and heir to her valuable estate, has not only been defeated in litigation, but is likely to lose the comfortable property which he had accumulated by a long life of industry. E. R. Hoar, of Massachusetts, has sued Mr. Bowen in the United States Circuit Court, of Rhode Island, for counsel fees, and the case is on trial before Judge Knowles. When Bowen began the Jumel suit he owned real estate worth probably thirty thousand dollars, which has been slowly dwindling away, until now he is comparatively poor.

IT seems that the Duke of Northumberland is not to follow the Marquis of Ripon into the Romish fold. To catch two such large gudgeons in one year would be a dazzling stroke of good fortune for the venerable person who uses the seal of the fisherman. The capture of the Marquis of Ripon has so tickled the old gentleman that he has declared his intention of sending the noble convert, direct from the Vatican, a "Religious Souvenir," whatever that may be. It appears that in 1873 there were in England thirty-three Roman Catholic lords, seventy-seven baronets, six members of the Privy Council, and thirty-seven members of the House of Commons. That affords, one would think, quite a respectable basis for the conversion of the entire peerage and baronetage.—N. Y. Times.

'Yes.' 'Why, God made me about so long (holding his hands about ten inches apart), but I growed the rest.'"

AUTUMN.

The warm blood chills, as if some Arctic bird
Has taken swift winged flight from frosty skies,
And with its glittering pinions beating, flies
Mid Southern climes, with icy talons spurred;
It sends a fright through all the Summer herd;
From its keen touch the night dews crystalize;
The morning mead is clad in Winter guise;
Its wailing voice through forest crest is heard;
A hectic flush is mantling vale and moat;
The bell tolls softly the departing day;
O! sweet, ineffable, the songster's note,
Whose harvest life is ebbing fast away!
A waning glory bathes the Western light,
With dreamy tints of sadness and delight.

Great Salt Lake Gradually Enlarging.

Silliman's Journal for September gives, on the authority of the Utah Mining Journal, some very remarkable statements in regard to the level of the Great Salt Lake. The valley was settled in 1847. The level of the lake is now twelve or fourteen feet higher than it was then. From 1847 to 1852 there was no noticeable change. From 1852 to 1856 there was a rise to the extent of about six feet above the lowest level of the first mentioned year. From 1856 to 1861 a gradual subsidence took place, until, in the fall of 1861, the level was two feet below the lowest mark of 1852, and the lake was contracted to about three-fourths of its area in that year. But from the spring of 1861 to 1868 there went on a steady rise; the lake extended to one and a half its area in 1861, and its surface stood twelve feet above the earlier level. Since that time the rise and fall have been about equal, the tendency being on the whole to gain, the fluctuations not exceeding two feet. As to the prospect for the future, it is stated that the humidity of the atmosphere annually increases as the area of cultivation becomes greater, and, as a consequence, the evaporation becomes less. On the other hand, the mountain streams are steadily enlarging. Thousands of acres of farming meadows and pasture lands have been submerged along the eastern and northern shores of the lake, and many square miles of valuable lands still occupied by the farmers will be completely inundated should the waters rise but a few inches above the level of the past few years, unless protected by levees. A monument has been recently placed near the shore of the lake to indicate the fluctuations of its level. This will be watched with great interest for the next few years.

Chat With a Centenarian.

An Easton correspondent of the New York World has had a chat with a gentleman who was a hundred years old when the war for the Union broke out. It having been announced that he would attend the State Fair in session last week, there was great curiosity to see him. Tuesday afternoon he put in an appearance accompanied by his daughter Mary, aged 73, a nephew and several friends and relatives. His name is George R. Labar, his home being the Delaware Water Gap, which place the party left Tuesday morning, reaching Easton about the middle of the afternoon. The day was showery, and the old gentleman caught a slight cold on the way, narrowly escaping a drenching rain-storm, which began immediately after his arrival. We found him quite talkative, but hard of hearing. He has rather a large head, covered with white hair, and a clear eye. His form is somewhat bent, but he has a fine chest, and shows a little emaciation. He is about the ordinary height, and weighs 107 pounds. His countenance is pleasant and intelligent, and in talking with him it is impossible to realize that he is over fivescore and ten years of age. Mr. Labar was christened in Easton, as the record distinctly shows, in 1763, although another record at Centreville makes it in 1759. There is no possible doubt that he is over one hundred and ten years of age. He is addicted to the use of tobacco, and can walk a considerable distance without fatigue. His father lived to be over ninety, and he has several children who are over eighty.

Baby-Farming in New York.

The practice of baby-farming is again attracting attention in New York. Of the 34,000 infants born in that city, only 26,000 are properly accounted for as taken care of in conformity with the requirements of the Board of Health. How the balance are dealt with, the case of an infant, twenty-one days old, who died at a house on West Twenty-seventh street last week, pretty plainly indicates. Mrs. Porter, the keeper of the house, states that an unknown man called and left her the child, giving her $15, its first month's board, and left. When the doctor was called to it he found it starved beyond the reach of medical aid, the little thing having been fed with a spoonful of condensed milk to a half pint of water. Mrs. Porter is said to be only one of a large class of persons who advertise to take care of infants in the newspapers, and who receive, as in this case, $15 or so with the child from some person who gives a fictitious name and address, and whom they never see or expect to see again. A vigorous war on this horrible traffic is now in contemplation by the New York police, and the West Twenty-seventh street case is intended to be the opening one of the campaign. This course is undertaken none too soon.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 8, 1874.

There has been a gradual tightening of rates for money for a few days past, for which no very palpable cause could be assigned. The banks profess to have an abundance of loanable funds, but scrutinize paper quite closely. Capitalists investigate with great particularity the lands upon which they loan. The October settlements do not account for this, and the Eastern market does not furnish the answer. There is a feeling current that this will be "a tight winter;" and this, as much as anything, accounts for what we notice. Yet there is nothing in the surface appearance of business to indicate it. Our manufactories, within a week, have improved in orders, and there are those that are running double turn; others are starting in, and all are busy with an increased supply of orders. This does not look like a poor business for the winter. The few failures that have occurred of late are not of a character to generally disturb business, yet the tendency to look on the dark side prevails, and nothing seems to be so readily accepted as gloomy rumors. These should be avoided, as they do no good, and are not well founded. Yet, with all that is said, the general faith seems to be that the Spring will bring an active and improving trade.

Touching the general subject above noted, the New York World says: the failure of a dry goods house, Messrs. D. Valentine & Co., with liabilities estimated at $350,000, is much exaggerated, and commended upon beyond its importance. There has never been a doubt but that occasional failures would occur this autumn, to remind us that the effect of last year's panic is slow to pass away; but no branch of trade is in a condition to warrant fears of another panic. On the contrary, those whose business makes them best acquainted with the financial condition of our merchants are agreed that business generally is in a very unusually sound condition; as it ought to be, from the greater caution used and smaller risks taken.

As a warning to those of this city to avoid stock speculations at the present time, we quote from the New York Herald: "If it were not for the abundance of capital lying idle in our banks, and the impossibility of placing the same, even upon so favorable terms as two per cent., we should have witnessed no such sodawater effervescence in the New York stock market as that which has been described from day to day for the last six weeks. The general condition of the country, the earnings of railroads and the poverty of trade did not warrant any great advance. The recent speculative movement, therefore, was entirely local, abnormal and unnatural. Outside of Wall street one may search in vain for any corresponding signs of improvement. It is not safe, however, to infer that because speculation is thus circumscribed and peculiar to a single neighborhood it may not result in still higher figures than those yet quoted. Several stocks are spoken of, around which cluster the hopes of investors, and it is confidently believed by them and their temporary allies that a further upward movement can not be successfully resisted. Predictions may prove true, yet final results will demonstrate that laws of trade are superior to individual diagnosis, and that an attempted manipulation of facts and figures in the face of these laws can result only in disappointment and misfortune."

—The annual report of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company was issued Tuesday. The following changes from the report of last year may be noted: The increase in the length of the road was 130 miles. The increase in the capital and bonded debt was $5,015,000. Increase in gross earnings, $1,856,000. Increase in net earnings, $155,722.

Gold was dull, opening at 110 1-8, and closing at 110. The carrying rate was 1@2 1-2; borrowing 1@2. Loans were also made flat. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $51,000. The clearings were $24,000,000. Governments were quiet and steady. State and railroad bonds were dull. Stocks opened weak at 1-8@3-8 lower prices than at the close yesterday. As the day advanced the market became strong, and in some cases prices made a marked improvement. The advance for the day ranged from ½ to 1 5-8 per cent. The principal improvement was in Ohios, Northwest common and preferred, Union Pacific, Western Union, Lake Shore, Pacific Mail and Wabash. Erie was exceptionally weak on rumors of injunction suits, and fell off ¼ per cent. The general market closed active and strong. Rumors were in circulation again to-day of the failure of prominent houses, but were ascertained to be without foundation. The total sales were 195,000 shares, of which 37,000 were Western Union, 15,000 Pacific Mail, 15,000 Erie, 37,000 Lake Shore, 34,000 Union Pacific, 22,000 Northwest common, 5,000 Wabash, and 12,000 Ohios.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH DAILY MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Oct. 7, 1874.

There is nothing particularly new or important to record in regard to commercial matters; business, while it is not what it usually is at this particular time, is about all that can reasonably be expected. The cautious policy still characterizes all transactions, but the condition of trade has its compensations. Business is on a solid basis, and transactions—as a rule—are either for cash or short time, showing that there is no scarcity of money with which to do all legitimate business.

APPLES—Selling, in a regular way, at $1.50@2.50 ₱ bbl, as to quality and condition, and market quiet.

BUTTER—There is a continued steady demand, but as the supply is fully equal to it, prices are not quotably higher, and we continue to quote at 33@35 for prime to choice.

CHEESE—The market is reported strong, and the recent advance is fully sustained; we continue to quote at 15½@16 for prime Ohio Factory and New York do, at 16½@17.

CRANBERRIES—Good to prime Jerseys quoted at $10@12 ₱ bbl and $15 for Sackett's.

EGGS—The market is generally reported steady at 24@25, although some dealers report that it is difficult to obtain 25.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little or no inquiry, nor is it likely that there will be for some weeks to come, hence no regular rates have as yet been established. Of one thing, however, there is no doubt, namely, prices will be much lower than last year.

FLOUR—The market remains substantially as it has been for some time past, quiet and unchanged. We continue former quotations: Spring wheats, $6.25@6.50 for Wisconsins and $7@7.25 for Minnesotas; winters; $6@6.50 for red and $7@7.50 for white. Rye Flour, $5.75.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade continues quiet, and in a general way presents no new features deserving of special mention, with the exception that our dispatches both from New York and Baltimore report Coffee as having quieted down again. A dispatch from New Orleans reports a small arrival of new Molasses, the first of the season, classed prime and sold at 95. Sugars continue in steady demand and the market is firm, but prices remain unchanged.

GRAIN—The market for Wheat continues quiet, and while there is but little offering, the supply is about equal to the demand. We continue to quote Penna and Ohio red winter at $1.12@1.15; and white at $1.18@1.20. The Oat market is quiet but steady at the recent advance; 60@61 for good mixed and 62@63 for white. The demand is not as brisk as it was prior to the advance, but holders, in view of the fact that current rates do not much more than cover actual cost, are refusing to make concessions. Corn is quiet and without quotable change; old 96@70; old ear is dull, as consumers are refusing to pay the difference between it and new. New Shelled, of which the supply is light, is dull—the fact that it is liable to heat operates against its sale just now. Rye is quiet and unchanged at $1@1.05.

HAY—The arrivals of baled continue liberal, and as the supply is accumulating the market is dull, although prices remain about as last quoted, ranging from $18 to $22 ₱ ton, according to quality and condition.

ONIONS—$3@4 ₱ bbl.

POULTRY—Live chickens quotable at 50@60c ₱ pair, by the coop.

POTATOES—The market is reported steady at 85@90 cents ₱ bushel on track, by the car load. Sweets ranging all the way from $3.50 to $5 ₱ bbl. on the outside figure for choice Jerseys.

PROVISIONS—The market for the hog product is fairly active, and as stocks are light, prices are pretty well sustained, notwithstanding the season will soon be over. Following are the ruling quotations: Hams, 15 cents for plain and 14½c for canvassed; Sugar Cured shoulders, 12; Breakfast Bacon, 16½; Dried Beef, Sugar Cured, 15; Bacon Shoulders, 11½; Ribbed Sides, 15½; Clear Sides, 16½; Mess Pork, $25.00. Lard, in tierces, 16¼; in half barrels, 16¾; in bkts., 17¼.

TALLOW—Country, 7@7½; city, 8@8¼.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is quiet and unchanged at $2.90@3 ₱ bushel to the trade.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, WEDNESDAY, Oct. 7, 1874.

ARRIVALS.

The arrivals of live stock from and including Sunday up until noon to-day, were as follows:

	Cattle.	Sheep.	Hogs.
Sunday	88 cars.	62 cars.	12 cars.
Monday	40 "	7 "	"
Tuesday	108 "	36 "	50 "
Wednesday	44 "	17 "	11 "
Total	280 "	122 "	73 "
Same time last week	226 "	126 "	71 "

CATTLE.

The market has been unsatisfactory thus far, apparently to both sellers and buyers, and while hopes of a change for the better are entertained, the outlook at this writing, we regret to state, is not very encouraging. The arrivals, as will be seen, have been considerably in excess of those of the corresponding time last week, and this is being used as a lever by the Eastern men, especially those from Philadelphia, to break down prices, and we are not surprised that they are very "bearish," as the Philadelphia market is reported as having been exceedingly hard last Monday. Stockers are in fair demand, and are selling without difficulty at full last weeks rates, but all other kinds thus far have been very dull, and the indications at noon to-day were that even for the best grades owners would be obliged to make concessions of from 20 to 25 cents ₱ cwt. or else ship on further East, as the Philadelphia dealers, almost without an exception, declared that if they were not able to buy their cattle cheaper than they did last week, they would buy but very few, if any. How the matter will terminate we are unable at this writing to state, but the next 24 hours will test the market, that is we will know by that time whether the Philadelphia buyers will adhere to the position they occupied to-day, or whether sellers will make the asked for concessions. There is some inquiry on New York account, but for some reason or other there are but few cattle bought here for that market; it is said that Buffalo, notwithstanding the cost of transportation is the same as from here, has a very decided advantage over us in some respects as regards the New York market, and in view of this it is evidently true, otherwise the purchases there for New York would not be so much larger than here. Common, half fatted cattle continue as they were last week, very dull, and hard to dispose of at anything like a satisfactory price to the owner; they are too good for feeders and not good enough for butchers; the latter don't want them, and while the former will buy, providing the owner is willing to accept the price of stockers. Salesmen all agree that they have more difficulty in disposing of the grade of cattle in question, with any degree of satisfaction to the owners, than any other kind, and what makes it still worse is that there has been an oversupply of this kind for several months, as farmers in some localities are obliged to market their cattle regardless of condition for want of feed. Sales thus far 2,429 head, against 2,048 same time last week.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 1,400@1,500 steers	6.50@6.75
Prime 1,200@1,300 steers	6.00@6.25
Good 1,000@1,100 steers	5.00@5.50
Common to medium butcher cattle	4.00@4.50
Stockers, as to quality	3.00@4.00
Bulls, as to quality	2.25@3.25

There was a sale of 18 head of fancy Southern Ohio steers, the pick out of 4 cars, at 7¼, but they were bought for the Allegheny market—none of the Eastern buyers would have paid the price in question, and it cannot, therefore, be taken as a criterion of the market. There was a sale of 3 cars of prime Kentucky cattle, bought to go to New York, but we did not learn the price.

HOGS.

The hog market has not varied much since the date of our last report, hence there is little to record that is really new or important. The arrivals are keeping up well, notwithstanding the heavy decline last week, but there has been a marked falling off as regards quality; the proportion of inferior as common, so we were informed, is much larger than for some time past, and unless good corn hogs, fat and smooth, commence to come in more freely, an advance in prices within the next 48 hours will doubtless be the result. Philadelphia hogs, in consequence, were a shade stronger to-day, although prices, as yet, are not quotably higher; 275@300 lb averages may be fairly quoted at 7@7¼, the latter being regarded by some dealers as an outside quotation, although we are cognizant of at least one bunch having been sold at the price in question this forenoon. Yorkers averaging 200@210 lbs, quotable at 6@6¼, and the market quiet. There are several bunches of green, thin Missouri hogs on sale, averaging 150 to 160 lbs which just now will not bring over 5½@5¾—we suppose they are Missouri hogs from the fact that they were shipped from St. Louis. This kind of stock is of very slow sale, and to effect sales at all, ruinously low rates have to be accepted.

SHEEP.

The sheep market is fairly active and steady, and while operators generally conceded more activity, the general feeling seemed to be that there was no quotable advance in prices. The "run," as will be seen, was a fair one, slightly in excess of what it has been during the same time for several weeks past, but, with a steady demand, they have been sold just about as fast as they arrived, hence the pens were pretty well cleared to-day, and the general tone and spirit of the market was, if anything, a little stronger. Extra 100 lb. fine wool may be quoted at 5¼; 90@95 lbs, 5@5¼; 80@85 lbs, 4½@4¾; 70@75 lbs, 4@4¼. Lambs selling at from 5@6c ₱ lb. Erisman reports having bought 18 cars of sheep yesterday and to-day at prices ranging from 4¼ to 5¼. Ensign Newton sold a single deck, averaging 114 lbs at 5.60, but this is an outside price.

Cincinnati Iron Market.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6.—Wm. Means, in his circular reports as follows: The better feeling which prevailed in the pig iron market during July has scarcely been maintained. There is little hope of any improvements during the winter months, and no very bright anticipations are indulged in regarding the spring demand. Reports from forty-eight furnaces sending iron to this market show 70,000 tons on hand, of which 27,000 tons are bituminous and 43,000 charcoal. Considering the fact that upward of 100 furnaces send metal to this market, a tolerable estimate can be made as to the quantity they represent. The stopping of charcoal furnaces during the winter and spring will have a tendency to relieve the market as to that description of iron, but it will only be temporary unless their be almost an entire cessation of the production next year. Nothing but positive action of this nature on the part of producers will prevent great loss on that now being made and already on hand.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Oct. 7, 1874.

The refined market to-day is decidedly weaker than yesterday, but prices remain unchanged; spot very dull and nominally quoted at 12⅛, and for late delivery, 12⅜ asked. The refiners here are not taking any interest in the Philadelphia market, all the shipments that are now going forward is in account of contracts made some months ago. Crude reported weaker, although, compared with yesterday, prices have not varied any. The market can be fairly quoted at $1.05@1.07½ on cars at Parker. There were offers in the market during the afternoon to sell at those figures, without buyers. Mr. Leo Oppenheim closed a sale to-day of 6,000 barrels refined oil, for account of John B. Tilford & Co., of New York. The oil is for the Baltimore market, where arrangements have already been made for handling oil on an extensive scale. Our refiners were jubilant over this transaction, and promise an hundred thousand barrels more without delay. We understand another cargo of 5,000 was closed to same buyer and same terms, late in the evening.

A special from Titusville says: One of the results of the conference of railroad magnates at Saratoga was the increase of petroleum freight rates from the oil regions to the seaboard. The advance may be estimated at 46 cents ₱ barrel. The trunk lines not only agreed to enforce this new arrangement, but they induced the pipe-lines, the companies that conveyed the crude from the wells through pipes to the railroads, to join the combination, which thus presents the unbroken front of a huge monopoly. In vain refiners and producers of the region protested, and the new rates went into effect on the 1st inst. This was done in the face of an utter prostration of business here, an overstocked market, and gloom generally. The producers have determined to fight the railroad companies and their allies, the pipe lines, to the bitter end. A committee has been appointed to engage legal counsel to open a case against the combination. The charge will be conspiracy, and the new Constitution of the State affords the producers ample grounds for redress. A subscription paper is circulating to obtain money to carry on the prosecution. The new movement is thought to be the commencements of hostilities against the railway companies of the State, and the cry is "down with monopolies." It is also proposed to exact from any Legislative and Congressional candidate in the region a pledge to carry the fight into the Legislature and Congress, so that it can be seen that warm times are ahead.

Oil barrels quiet; quoted at $1.45 for city and $1.30 for countries. Some few sales of cities were reported at the price named.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The improvement noticed in this market last week was well maintained during the week under review. The policy of manufacturers in holding back their supplies has had a favorable effect on the market, and the cargoes now coming forward generally find buyers within a few hours after their arrival. The season is fast drawing to a close and some of our city and country yard dealers have not got a sufficient amount of lumber in their yards to supply their customers during the winter. As a consequence they are anxious to purchase, and the competition between these buyers is sufficient to enable sellers to realize full prices. The outlook for the trade next year is at present such as would indicate a more favorable market all over the country. This is predicting rather far ahead, but reports from various sections of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and also from Canada, show that lumbermen are determined to reduce by one-third less logs this season than last. The demand has been largely for joist and scantling, and all offered met with ready sale at $9. Strips and boards were steady and held with considerable firmness, and sales were made at $9.00@12.50 for common to medium, and $13.00@16.00 for fair to choice grades. Shingles scarce and firm at $2.60@2.90 for common to choice from yard. Lath, $1.62½, with an occasional sale at $1.70. To-day the receipts were full, about thirty cargoes being on sale. The weather was unfavorable for the transaction of out-door business, but nevertheless the market ruled quite active, and closed steady with but few cargoes unsold. Shingles sold at $2.75@2.80.—Inter-Ocean.

Philadelphia Cattle Market.

PHILADELPHIA, October 5—Beef Cattle.—There was no vitality in this department of the live stock market to-day, and with a very liberal supply of all descriptions, prices receded fully ¼@⅜c ₱ pound. What little demand there was confined almost exclusively to the better grades, other kinds being neglected and entirely nominal in value. We quote the former at 5⅞@8, the latter figure for a small lot of extra, and the latter at 3½@5½c ₱ lb. Receipts 4,000 head.

Sheep.—The demand for good grades was quite lively at 4½@6c, the latter for choice, but stock were dull, the season being near the close. We quote at $2.50 to $3. Lambs moved with considerable freedom at 6½@7½ cents for fair to good, and $1.50 to $2.50 for common. Receipts, 10,000 head.

Hogs were sold freely at $10@11 for corn fed, and $10@10.50 for slop. Receipts, 6,000 head.

GEORGE H. ROWE,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The stage of water last evening was two feet five inches and stationary. Weather hazy and threatening rain, although late in the afternoon the wind shifted around to the West, which is accepted by many as a very favorable indication for rain at this season of the year.

—T. R. Burleigh, son of Dr. W. A. Burleigh, who is largely interested in Upper Missouri steamboats, closed a contract, yesterday, with Sherman & McFall, of California, for a new hull of the following dimensions: length of deck, 165 feet; beam, 31 feet; depth of hold, 4 feet. She will have the machinery of the Miner, now being dismantled, and according to contract, the hull is to be delivered here on or before the first of January next. She will be fashioned similar to the boats built recently for that trade, which have a capacity of about 400 tons and carry a small crew.

—The Elliott Bros. state that they do not intend to run the City of Augusta as an opposition boat to the Quickstep in the White River trade, but merely intend to run on the same days of the [illegible] steamer for [illegible] into the hands of the Sheriff. Their steamer is being [illegible].

—Capt. E. G. Stinkle, who was a candidate for Councilman in Newport, Ky., was defeated Saturday by three votes. He was on Monday, however, re-elected as Secretary of the Cincinnati and St. Louis Pilots' Association for two years, a position which he has held since the organization of the Association four or five years ago.

—Captain R. Eugene Bowers, clerk of the Nick. Longworth, was elected City Treasurer of Newport, Saturday, with a majority of 500 votes.

—At Austin, Texas, the Colorado River is up [illegible]. Capt. Dan Moore, of the Arlington, is reported as prospecting at Cincinnati for a trip to New Orleans.

—Col. Merrill has ordered the large just raised of Portland bar to be sunk again, in order to make a channel over the bar for boats.

—Pilot Nick Whitten, who brought up the Miner, has returned to Cincinnati.

Arm Cut—A Painful Accident.

Yesterday afternoon a German, working in Huntsman & Miller's cabinet factory on Third street, Allegheny, accidentally cut his right arm at the wrist with a chisel, inflicting a severe wound and severing an artery. He was assisted to Dr. Dick's office, where he was attended to. While his wound was being dressed he fainted four or five times, caused by the great loss of blood.

Closing up [illegible]ank.

A bill in eq[illegible] in the Court of Comm[illegible] by C. A. Nish, [illegible] f the Working[illegible] Bank, Pittsburgh. The [illegible] a stockholder in the con[illegible] says that it was agreed last May to close up the concern, but this design has not been carried out, and is not being carried out as quickly and economically as the creditors demand. He therefore wants the Court to appoint a receiver to hurry up matters. The usual preliminary order was made.

A Minister Surprised.

Last evening the members of the First Methodist Congregation, called with other friends upon their pastor, Rev. H. Siviter, in a body, taking with them enough provisions for a royal supper, and after a pleasant "surprise party," leaving their ministerial friend money and valuables to a goodly amount, as remembrancers of the visit. The gathering was a complete surprise to the recipient of the gifts, and was to all who participated, a thoroughly enjoyable donation party.

Oil Refiners' Meeting.

Yesterday the Oil Refiners held another meeting to discuss further arrangements in reference to the negotiations looking to a shipment of refined oil by way of Baltimore. The meeting took no final action on the subject further than what has been reported. The refiners seemed to be thoroughly satisfied with the prompt action of Councils, and propose to go ahead with the laying of the pipe line, as soon as the final action in the ordinance is taken.

During the meeting Mr. U. P. Logan called attention to the death of Mr. S. M. Kier, and on motion a committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. W. P. Logan, Wm. Frew, and Jno. A. McKee, to take such action as was proper in behalf of the association.

Thirty-third Street Sewer.

The report of the Viewers on the Thirty-third street sewer has been filed. This report differs from the first in that the land reclaimed by diverting the waters of the meandering river into the sewer, the direct course from Penn street to the river, is assessed at about two-thirds the cost of the sewer. The balance is assessed on the frontage, and lateral surface drainage. No property is assessed at the upper end of the sewer. The city of Pittsburgh owns all the land lying between low water line and the main land at low water line of Wainwright's island, a strip about a hundred feet wide, and perhaps three-quarters of a mile long. On this the assessment is $11,091.53, or over one-third the cost of the sewer—$31,065.83.

The Aeronautic Ladies.

The ladies who went up in Barnum's balloon on Tuesday afternoon alighted about eleven o'clock that night in McCandless township, about ten miles from the city, and on the Perrysville road. Being within a short distance of the hotel of Mr. Jacob Trax they remained at his house all night, and yesterday morning started for home, arriving in the city about ten o'clock, much to the gratification of their friends and relatives who had become very anxious regarding their safety. They express themselves as highly pleased with their trip and will ever retain pleasant memories of their aerial voyage. Prof. Donaldson and Mr. Thomas, instead of coming to the city with the ladies, re-embarked in the balloon and landed on the Fort Wayne Railroad some ten miles below the city.

Another ladies balloon ascension will take place to-morrow afternoon.

"Platform Dribble."

Says the United Presbyterian of this week: "Lecture committees do not need advice more than other people, but inasmuch as the public is interested in what it has to pay for, we feel like asking, on its behalf, that during the coming winter it may be spared much of the platform dribble to which it has often been subjected. Good lecturers are well paid, and lecture-goers never begrudge the money or time they give them. But to give a high price to some fifth-rate joker, simply because he is in the 'bureau' and has bought himself newspaper praise, is too severe to be borne with patience. Indeed, people have made up their minds to bear it no longer. And we suspect that the foreign gentlemen who ask us to pay their expenses by patronizing their dullness, the women who prate of suffrage and rights to get us to support their notoriety, and the avaricious throng, men and women, who wish us to indorse their laziness and cupidity, will find themselves poorly paid this year. For what is interesting and useful we are willing to pay, but we are not to be set down as the patrons of platform vagrancy."

The Baltimore, Pittsburgh & Chicago Railroad.

The Chicago Tribune has this to say of an enterprise in which Pittsburghers are interested:

"There are no longer any obstacles in the way of the coming in of the Baltimore, Pittsburgh & Chicago Railroad, and the final opening will undoubtedly take place on the 1st of November, and trains will run to South Chicago next week. The trouble existing between this road and the Michigan Central in regard to crossing the latter's track at Lake Station has finally been settled. The Baltimore, Pittsburgh & Chicago Railroad, not willing to be delayed in coming into this city by the opposition of rival roads, applied to the Hon. A. Gillett, Judge of the Circuit Court of Porter County, Indiana, for the appointment of three appraisers to assess the damages for the right of way across the Michigan Central Road. The case was first heard at Valparaiso last Saturday, and the application was resisted by the Michigan Central, on the ground that Commissioners should first be appointed to fix the point and manner of crossing. After a long and able argument pro and con, the Court decided in favor of the Baltimore Company, and refused to appoint the Commissioners to change the location or manner of crossing, but granted the application of the Baltimore Company, and appointed the three appraisers to assess the damages for the right of way over the Michigan Central. The appraisers meet Thursday at the place of crossing, and will make their award. The damages will be merely nominal, embracing simply the value of the land necessary for the right of way."

THE NATION TRUST COMPANY.

Depositors Meeting on Tuesday Night.

A depositors meeting of the late Nation Trust Company was held in the Ralston School House on Tuesday night. After transacting some business of minor importance, they expressed a desire to have the receiver hurry up matters, and accordingly passed the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, By the published report of the receiver of the Nation Trust Company, John H. Bailey, Esq., it appearing that a very large amount of good assets, consisting of bills receivable and overdrafts almost sufficient to pay off all the depositors excepting the city and county deposits; and

WHEREAS, It appearing no legal measures have been taken to secure early payment of said assets, and as the depositors are, in many cases, suffering for want of their money deposited in said Nation Trust Company; be it

Resolved, That the trustees of the Nation Trust company urgently request said receiver, John H. Bailey, Esq., to institute legal proceedings at once to secure funds to pay off all claims as far as such moneys so secured can be used for the purposes herein designated.

Resolved further, That the attorneys for the stockholders and the committee for the depositors take such legal steps as will expedite the matter.

Resolved further, That the committee of the depositors confer with the attorneys for the stockholders to have them make application to the court to have the fund in the hands of the receiver distributed at once.

DISCUSSING WATER AFFAIRS.

Debate on the Approval of the Hiland Avenue September Estimate—It is Vigorously Opposed by Major Negley—Indorsed Notwithstanding—The Smith Pipe Contract—Report of the Civil Engineers—Unsuccessful Attempt to Investigate Secretary Duff.

Another meeting of the Water Committee was held last night in Municipal Hall, Mr. Mitchell in the Chair. The following members answered to their names when the roll was called: Messrs. Anderson, Aull, Brown, W. C., Brown, R. B., Cunningham, Fox, Fulton, Hunter, Harrison, Meyran, Mears, Morrison, Milligan, McMasters, Negley, Perchment, Reilly, Rush, Rayburn, Scully, Thompson, Thomas, Watson, Mitchell, Chairman.

A communication was read from Clerk Booth, of Common Council, stating that Councils had approved the award of the contract for the raising mains to Jared M. Brush & Co. Received and filed.

THE HILAND AVENUE ESTIMATE.

The Chair submitted the September estimate of work done on the Hiland avenue reservoir, made out in favor of Jacob H. Walter, amounting to $14,968 25, and asked what action should be taken on them.

A motion was made to approve the estimate, and a long discussion followed before any final action was taken. Mr. Negley objected on the ground that Mr. Walter is not known in connection with the Hiland avenue or Brilliant Hill reservoir. That the transfer of the contract to him has never been approved by Councils, and until such approval has been obtained it is not legal.

Mr. Thompson claimed that it was not necessary to get the endorsement of Councils but that a provision in the contract secured to the Committee the right to transfer it without afterward being approved. To prove his position Mr. Thompson read the following extract from the contract: "The said parties of the second part hereby further agree that they will give their personal attention to the fulfillment of this contract, and that they will not sub-let the aforesaid work, but will keep the same under their control; and that they will not assign by power of attorney, or otherwise, any portion of the said work, unless by and with the previous consent of the Pittsburgh Water Commissioners, to be signified by endorsement on this agreement."

A DIFFERENCE.

Mr. Negley again took the floor and alleged that the very quotation made by Mr. Thompson only proved the correctness of his (Mr. Negley's) argument. He said there was a vast difference between assigning any portion of the work and assigning the contract, and claimed that if the transfer was made as provided for by the agreement of the committee, it would entail heavy loss upon the city. He asserted that by estimates made in violation of the contract, it made no difference whether by the Engineer himself or on the authority of the old Water Commission, the city had paid $50,000 on stone delivered at Haight's Run and not "in place," as provided in the contract. He said he had a conscience and could not violate his oath by voting for the approval of an estimate when the city has already paid $50,000 for work that has not been done.

Mr. Milligan supported the stand taken by Mr. Negley, and cited from estimates to prove that the city has paid for work that has never been done.

Mr. Meyran suggested that inasmuch as the resolutions offered by Mr. Negley in Common Council on Monday cover about the same ground that the transfer of the reservoir contract does, that they be adopted by the committee, and have the estimate approved under them. No action was taken on the suggestion.

CITY ATTORNEY'S OPINION.

City Solicitor Bigelow being present, was called on for an opinion regarding the legality of the transfer and he stated that he thought it legal in every respect and considered the city perfectly secure under it. He did not think it needed the endorsement of Councils and advised the approval of the estimate without waiting for the action of Common Council on the transfer.

Mr. Fulton said he did not think the remarks of Mr. Negley proved anything against the legality of the transfer and that he made assertions which he could not support by facts.

In reply Mr. Negley said that the Water Committee had done many things which it had no right to do without the approval of Councils. He instanced the suspension of work on the Brilliant Hill reservoir which he alleged the Committee had no right to order without the sanction of Councils.

STATEMENT FROM MR. WALTER.

Mr. Jacob H. Walter made a statement in which he said that he had accepted the work and proposed to prosecute in good faith. That he is laying stone in Hiland reservoir at a loss of $2 on every perch, and also that he is using in Hiland reservoir the stone which was estimated and paid for for Brilliant Hill.

After some further discussion Mr. Milligan moved to postpone the approval of the estimate until after the next meeting of Councils. Lost by a vote of 15 to 6.

A motion was then made to approve the estimate.

Mr. Milligan demanded the ayes and nays and gave notice that he would challenge the votes of some of the members.

THE ESTIMATE APPROVED.

The ayes and nays being called on the approval of the estimate the result was as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Aull, W. C. Brown, Cunningham, Fulton, Hunter, Harrison, Meyran, Mears, Morrison, McMasters, Perchment, Rush, Rayburn, Scully, Thompson, Watson, and Mitchel—117.

Nays—Messrs. Anderson, R. B. Brown, Fox, Milligan, Reilly, Thomas and Negley—7.

Mr. Milligan did not challenge as threatened and so the estimate was approved.

When the dispute regarding the estimate for work done on Hiland avenue was over, the Brilliant Hill estimate was taken up, and on motion of Mr. Hunter it was postponed. The other estimates, as published in the GAZETTE on Tuesday morning, in favor of N. Snyder & Co., for boilers, for the first and second pair of engines, &c., were then approved.

THE SMITH PIPE CONTRACT.

The following, offered by Mr. Harrison, created a long debate.

Resolved, That the final estimate of the Engineer, under the Smith pipe contract, be referred to Councils with the recommendation that they appoint a competent person or persons to review the calculations of the Engineer, or take each other action as to them shall appear proper.

Mr. Aull opposed the resolution, on the ground that it was unnecessary unless the committee had no faith in the calculations of the Engineer.

Mr. Hunter said that if the figures of the final estimate were to be reviewed by any one, it should be done by member sof the committee and not referred to Councils for that purpose.

LOSING MONEY.

Mr. H. M. Long, financial agent of Wm. Smith, made an explanation in which he stated that there was evidently a misunderstanding regarding the estimate, which amounts to $101,088.43. The calculations, he said, are very simple and can be made by any school boy, being only a certain number of tons at so much a ton. Mr. Long did not favor the passage of the resolution because it would cause delay in the approval of the estimate and for every month Mr. Smith is kept out of his money he loses $600 the interest on the amount of the estimate.

The matter was finally disposed of by approving the estimate and referring it to Councils for their approval before it is paid.

An additional estimate, in favor of Wm. Smith, for $5,617 44 for extra pipe, was read and approved.

The name of Caspar Negley was ordered to be entered on the pay-roll for September, for the amount due him for granting the city the right of way over his land in the neighborhood of the water works.

Mr. Anderson read the answer of the Committee to the bill in equity, filed in Court by the Taxpayers Union, to prevent the awarding of the contract for the rising mains to Jared M. Brush & Co. It was approved, and when the session was over the members affixed their signatures to it.

CIVIL ENGINEER'S REPORT.

Mr. W. H. Kennedy, the Civil Engineer, submitted his report for the month of September, from which we extract the following:

GENTLEMEN:—I would most respectfully report that the work on the Brilliant Hill reservoir has been suspended, and the estimate presented for the reservoir has been made up without deducting the 10 per cent. reserve. The allowance of $15,000 for locomotive, stationary engine, inclined plane, and railroad, allowed by the Water Committee has been deducted, and the amount returned $4,489.04 is what remains due the contractor for work done and materials delivered.

THE STONE DELIVERED.

The money paid on stone delivered in Haight's Run under the contract, that approximate monthly estimates were to be made on work done and materials delivered, is charged to the Brilliant reservoir in this estimate, although the stone is being used by the Hiland reservoir.

If this committee so determine, the exact amount used in the Hiland reservoir can be charged on the books to that work, and the amount charged to the Brilliant reservoir correspondingly reduced. The total amount that was over estimated for stone of all classes delivered in Haight's Run, amounted to $49,081.50. Of this $15,840 was paid on 3,168 cubic yards of paving stone, at $5 per yard, (the contract price of paving being $9 per yard), $19,704 on 4,926 cubic yards of rubble stone suitable for rubble or concrete, at $4 per yard (the contract price of rubble is $7, and of concrete $6 per yard), and $13,537 50 on 9,025 cubic yards of stone for broken stone at $1 50 per yard (the contract price for broken stone is $2 per yard.)

FINAL PIPE ESTIMATE.

The estimate returned for Wm. Smith, contractor for pipes, is a final one, and closes out his contract with the city. I have retained sufficient money to secure the delivery of the pipes that are still undelivered. The total number of tons originally contracted for of various sizes was 11,058 tons, and 300 tons of special castings. The final estimate as presented is for a fraction over 11,058 of straight pipes and for a fraction over 235 tons of special castings." He then submitted a detailed report showing where the pipes and special castings were laid.

The following bids to furnish patterns for fire fronts for the boilers for the new water works were opened:

S. D. Hubbard & Co.	$245
A. Hartupee	200
Speakman & Vo[illegible]	225
W. Anderson	175

Mr. Watson moved to award the contract to Mr. Hartupee, claiming that although his bid was $25 higher than the lowest it was the best. The motion was lost and the contract was awarded to Mr. Anderson.

On motion of Mr. Morrison, Superintendant Atkinson was instructed to let the water into the pipes on Hiland avenue, notwithstanding his assertion that if he did so it would cut off the supply at other places.

AN INVESTIGATION VETOED.

Mr. Aull presented a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate charges of incompetency against Mr. Duff, Secretary of the Committee. After a short but very lively debate, the resolution was, on motion of Mr. W. C. Brown, laid on the table, there being only two dissenting votes.

THE COURTS.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

State Supreme Court.

[Chief Justice Agnew, Presiding.]

John A. McQuade, Joseph S. Cook and Henry S. Floyd, on motion of A. M. Brown, Esq., were admitted and duly qualified to practice in this Court.

EJECTMENT CASE.

John Schell and John Schuck vs. Andrew Stein. Argued by J. H. Miller, for plaintiff in error, and C. B. M. Smith contra. This is an ejectment case involving the possession of a house and lot. Stein gave the plaintiff, for full consideration, a mortgage on the property he (Stein) occupied and had occupied since 1846. Failing to meet the mortgage, a sci. fa. was issued, judgment obtained by default and the property levied on by the Sheriff and sold to mortgagees. The ejectment was brought by plaintiff in error and plaintiffs below on their title thus obtained, and on trial title was admitted in defendant, Andrew Stein, in 1846. Plaintiffs gave in evidence that mortgage and Sheriff's deed, and the fact that Stein had been in possession since 1846. Defendant, under objection, gave in evidence a deed for the property in dispute made by him in 1856 to his brother, Casper Stein. Plaintiff showed that no such deed had been recorded on the general index of the Recorder's office, and claimed that as mortgages they were not affected with the constructive notice of this and by reason of its defective registration. They also claimed that it was not competent for Stein, the plaintiffs mortgagors in possession, to set up an outstanding title to protect his own possession against the Sheriffs vendue. The Court allowed the defendant to show as part of his case in chief that the deed to Casper Stein was indexed in deed book vol. 121, in which it was recorded. The jury found for plaintiffs below, but on argument the Court entered judgment for defendant on the reserved question, non obstante veredicto. An appeal was then taken by plaintiffs in error.

AN ACTION ON A NOTE.

James P. Hanna, surviving Ira B. McVay, late partners as Ira B. McVay & Co., vs. Robt. Wray, Jr. Argued by C. B. M. Smith for plaintiff in error, and Fetterman and Thompson contra.

In April, 1865, Robert Wray, Jr., who had previously done business at the banking house of Ira B. McVay & Co., came to the bank of the firm with a note made by one James McClelland, for one thousand dollars, payable to the order of William M. Dawson. The note was endorsed by Dawson himself, R. P. Gordon and by Robert Wray, Jr., either there or before it was left at the bank. Wray asked Mr. McVay to take the note, but the latter objected. Finally, however, the note was left at the bank and the money paid to Wray. The agreement was made between Wray and McVay, the latter being the active member of the banking firm. There was a dispute as to this agreement—whether the note was sold to McVay or whether it was merely left there for discount. The note became due May 30th, June 2d, 1865, but was not protested until June 5th. Some time after the note became due, McVay notified Wray that the note was not paid, and on the 10th of July thereafter he, Wray, called at the banking house of Ira B. McVay & Co., repaid the money he had received on the note and took it up. He afterwards sued Dawson, but failed to recover, on the ground that he, Dawson, was discharged by reason of non protest of the note in due time. On the 16th of March, 1866, Wray, the plaintiff below, brought suit against Ira B. McVay, C. B. McVay and James P. Hanna, to recover the money paid on the note, on the ground that the defendants had been guilty of negligence in not properly protesting the note, and that he, Wray, had paid the note under a mistake of facts. C. B. McVay not being a member of the firm his name was withdrawn. Ira B. McVay having died, his death was suggested and Mary A. McVay, the administratrix of the estate, substituted. Afterwards, the Court made another substitution, placing James P. Hanna as the defendant. When the case came on to be heard, the testimony of the plaintiff was offered and objected to by defence. The objection was overruled and the case continued, the jury finding for plaintiff. A motion for a new trial was made, but not granted, and an appeal was taken, alleging errors of law to have been made by the Court below, principally in admitting the plaintiff to testify.

DOLLAR SAVING BANK VS. BENNETT.

The next case up was the Dollar Savings Bank, plaintiff in error and the defendant below, vs. John F. Bennett. Error to Common Pleas of Allegheny county. Argued by Thomas M. Marshall for plaintiff in error, and J. W. Kirker contra. John F. Bennett was indebted to the bank in the sum of $16,000, secured by a judgment bond and mortgaged on certain coal lands on the Brownsville road. The interest was not met and the mortgage was placed in the hands of the solicitor of the bank for collection. Mr. Bennett alleges that the solicitor, Mr. Burgwin, proposed to purchase the property of Bennett in the name of the bank; to hold the same as security for the payment of the claims, until it could be sold for sufficient to meet the claim of the bank, and at a price satisfactory to Mr. Bennett; that he, Mr. Bennett, was to receive the surplus after the payment of the debt, interest and expenses. Mr. Bennett says, also, that the authorities of the bank promised to carry out any agreement made with the Solicitor. The property was sold for $47,000, and the bank denying that any such agreement (as Mr. Bennett alleged) had been made, he entered suit for and recovered $24,000.46, on the parol contract. The bank then took out a writ of error.

The Court adjourned at one o'clock.

ALLEGHENY WATER SUPPLY.

The Proposed Improvement of the Reservoirs—The Plans Suggested by the City Engineer—The Basin to be Repaired and Enlarged.

The question of a full water supply is a subject that is especially interesting to Alleghenians, having in remembrance the past season's troubles in that line. The report of the City Engineer, made to the Water Committee, will therefore be perused with interest, not only by Councilmen, but by the people generally, who want all further trouble avoided. The report is as follows:

GENTLEMEN—Agreeably to your wish that I should make a report as to the best means of repairing or improving the Troy Hill reservoir, I beg to state the following:

DILLAPIDATED CONDITION OF THE PRESENT BASIN.

The dilapidated condition of the enclosing walls of the basin will not admit of any repairs being made that can be relied on to secure the reservoir against leakage.

The lower portion of the division wall is of the flimsiest character, being of ordinary rubble, laid in floor mortar. The joints between the stone show large gaps and crevices, through which the water finds easy access.

The heart of this wall gives a free passage way for the water entering it, to the side walls, and also to the natural bed of the basins, which, from the porous character of the material, allows the water to escape, under the paving and embankment, to the hillsides. A more complete and effectual outlet could scarcely be formed by design.

The side walls of the reservoir are composed of rubble stone back walls, faced with brick work, and between these walls a narrow space filled with concrete. They were designed undoubtedly to retain water but from bad construction have failed to subserve their purposes. Trial pits opened at various points along the banks in rear of these walls, develop the fact that a great deal of leakage from the basins comes directly through these walls, or where this is not the case it follows along the foundations, from the more defective points, and thus makes its escape.

The serious character of the defects named can be better understood by a consideration of the fact that only eight and a half feet of water can be maintained in the reservoir instead of twelve feet as designed.

The basins at this time will not carry water enough to supply the city one day, whereas if they were put in good order they would give about two day's supply.

THE REPAIRING PLAN.

The best and most economical arrangement of repairing these basins appears to be to form a new inside lining with earth and puddle, independent of the walls, and to make a new division, or center well using the old wall, as far as the material may be found suitable, in the new work; and connecting the sides, bottoms and divisions of basins with a continuous sheet of puddle, covering this puddle on the side slopes with brick on edge laid in cement to connect with the bottom pavement of the basins.

In building this new wall an opportunity is afforded of making a desirable improvement in the mechanism for regulating the delivery and discharge of water. At present the inlet pipe discharges, and the outlet pipe receives it supply from the same point, in the basin, this delivering the bulk of the water in about the same condition it comes from the river.

It is proposed to form a chamber in the embankment outside of the reservoir opposite the end of the division wall to receive the terminal pipes of the three force mains from works, as shown by the plan accompanying, and to convey the water from this chamber down the slopes to the bottom of the basin in each division by a twenty-four inch pipe with valve on chamber ends to control the flow in either basin. This will allow the water to enter with the least disturbance and at the proper elevation in regard to the surface of the basin, and will cut off the liability to accident and leakage attending the laying of such pipes through the embankment. There is now considerable leakage along the lines of the inlet pipes. The outlet or effluant pipe it is proposed to extend so as to make the point of delivery at the opposite side of the basin, by simply laying it along the floor of the puddle space in the division wall, and forming a chamber in this wall at its farthest end, inside the side slopes of the reservoir. This chamber is to have four openings, supplied with valves,—two in each basin—two opening near the surface, and two at the bottom to regulate the discharge.

This arrangement gives the water an opportunity to settle, during its movement across the basin, from the inlet to the outlet, and again gives the advantage of drawing it at a point near the surface where it is purest and freest from sedimentary matter.

The cost of this appendage would be the cost of two hundred feet of pipe, and laying and supplying the four valves and stems.

The use of chambers greatly simplifies the working of reservoirs by working the different parts more accessible, and keeping them under better control when an accident occurs. In order to make the suggestions offered, perfectly intelligible and as a matter of reference, the detailed plans and alterations of proposed improvements are submitted.

The estimated cost of this plan is $25,045.99.

Had the reservoir been properly constructed in the outset, much of the present work now made necessary would have been avoided.

It must be remembered that the reservoir as originally built was a mere hole in the ground, the excavation from the crest of the hill forming the embankments. The material is generally of a very porous nature; and no great pains seems to have been taken to make the bed of the reservoir, or even the sides, water tight.

The old sections show that with a slight exception the natural material was depended on, in both bed and sides, to retain the water.

Since originally built, various expedients have been introduced from time to time to correct the defects, but without giving very permanent or satisfactorr results, though entailing considerable cost to the city.

The plan for enlarging the reservoir embraces the same ground work and calls for the same profiles, and the same arrangements for chambers and pipe extensions as the one for repairs, but adds five feet more to the height of the reservoir embankment and also five feet to the heighth of the division wall.

It also provides for making alterations in the tank house, by cutting off posts and underpinning where the building interferes with the proposed slope.

The estimated cost of enlarging and otherwise improving the reservoir is $33,573.94.

THE "ENLARGEMENT" PLAN.

The plan of enlargement especially commends itself on account of the increase in storage room afforded, for the trifling additional cost over the actual expenses of simple repairs. The plan for enlargement will only cost $8,527.95 over the cost for making the actual repairs necessary. With the additional expenditure, the time at which a more abundant storage supply (than this proposed improvement would give,) will be considerable prolonged, probably eight years. The present daily consumption of the district is about 4,000,000 gallons, or 66 gallons per day for each person.

Assuming the population within the district supplied to be 60,000. This when built up a compactly as the old Four ward's are at present, will give a population of 118,000. This, at 66 gals. per head, would require 7,854,000 gallons per day. The proposed enlarged basin would then hold 1 1-4 day's supply, or the same, proportionately, as the present basin holds to-day.

The capacity of the reservoir as built, is 6,525,000 gallons—as proposed, it would be in round numbers 10,000,000 gallons, an increase of about one-half.

The present consumption, as before stated, is about 4,000,000 gallons, making the capacity of the basin, as it is to-day, 1½ days' supply, whereas by proposed enlargement would get 2½ days' supply.

It is desirable that at least 2½ or three days' supply should be maintained at all times. The general practice where storage works are in use, is to make three days' supply the minimum.

The district available for supply from this basin or portion of city, lying below a plane of 200 feet above low water, covers the most thickly populated parts of the city and embraces, approximately 2.65-100 square miles, or a little over one third of the city area.

Another advantage of enlarging the reservoirs would be the increased depth of water gained to draw from—17 feet instead of 12 feet—thus reducing the temperature of the body and allowing the water to reach the consumer, in a more favorable condition for use.

At present there seems to be no good reason why this site should not be retained for a distributing reservoir for this district, or for the greater portion of it at least, even in the event of a more enlarged system of works being adopted in the future for the north side of the river.

The reservoir is favorably located for the lower plane and built up portion of the city, and rests on good ground; and there is vacant territory enough on the point to the west of it to get one-half more storage capacity than is at present offered, should it be required.

There are more than ordinary difficulties attending the work of enlarging or repairing these basins as spoken of, in buildin a new division wall and at the same time providing for the constant supply and delivery of water through the basins while the work progresses. This, however, has been carefully considered, and is not deemed of sufficient importance to recite in detail in this report.

Respectfully submitted.

CHAS. DAVIS.

This report was presented to the Water Committee, who after some discussion, decided to recommend the adoption of the plan for enlarging and improving the reservoir for $33,000, and will so report to Councils.

THE TURF.

The Second Day of the McKees Rocks Races — Interesting Contests — Two Purses Offered—Last Race Postponed Until To-day.

Yesterday was the second day of the races at McKees Rocks, and in interest they far surpassed those of the day before. The steamer L. C. McCormick was chartered to convey spectators to the driving park, and at the time it was to leave the city, which was advertised at 1:30 o'clock, there was every appearance of rain, but even this did not seem to interfere with the arrangements, as those who had determined to go were promptly on board before the boat left the wharf. She arrived at the race track a little after two o'clock, when it was found that every preparation had been made for the contests of the day—the horses being already on the track preparing for the start. The crowd was considerably larger than on Tuesday, and much more interest was manifested. Pool selling was kept up during the entire afternoon, and a great many pools were sold, ranging from ten to fifty dollars. There were a number of ladies on the grounds who seemed to be delighted with the trials of speed, and as an evidence of the interest which they manifested they remained until the final winding up of the affairs of the day. R. Johnston, of Louisville, Kentucky, H. B. Miller, of Pittsburgh, South Side, and A. Wells, of Ontario, Canada, acted as judges, and their decisions were honorable, being endorsed by all who were disinterested in the competing horses.

The first race was for horses that had never beaten 2:45 for a purse of $800. There were ten entries, and seven started, three horses being withdrawn before the race was called. It was, to say the least of it, one of the most interesting contests ever witnessed on this course.

First Heat.—The horses did not get off until they had scored five times, when the order was given, Nick taking the lead, followed closely by Nelse with Lady McFatridge third. The balance of the horses broke badly before reaching the first quarter pole. These positions were held until the home stretch was reached when Nick opened a gap of five lengths, passing under the wire and winning the heat. Butcher Boy was distanced and declared out.

Second Heat.—After scoring a number of times, the word "go" was given when Nick again took the lead, but was closely pressed by Lady McFatridge—George taking the third place. On the last quarter Lady McFatridge made a lively dash, passing Nick and coming home half a length ahead. Lookout was withdrawn at the close of this heat on account of being cramped when taken from the sulkey.

Third heat.—After scoring five times the horses got a good "send off" Lady McFatridge taking the advance, followed closely by Nick, but before the first quarter was reached the mare broke, giving Nick the lead, when he opened a gap of five lengths, which was reduced to three in passing under the half mile string. They trotted in these positions until the home stretch was reached, when Lady McFatridge lapped Nick, who in his endeavors to hold his place, broke badly, giving the heat to the mare by a length. Abbotsford and George were both distanced.

Fourth Heat.—After scoring a few times, the horses got off in good style, Nick taking the front, and opening a clean gap with his contestants, Lady McFatridge holding the second place, while Nelse brought up the rear. Lady McFatridge passed Nick before reaching the half-mile string and when the three-quarter pole was reached she had opened a gap of three lengths which, however, was reduced to a length and a half on the home stretch. At the conclusion of this heat, it was announced that Lady McFatridge had won the race and first money, Nick second and Nelse third.

The following is the summary:

Butcher Boy	Distanced.
Nelse	2	3	3	2
Lookout	4	Withdrawn.
Abbot's ford	6	4	Distan'd.
Lady McFatridge	3	1	1	1
Nick	1	2	2	3
George	5	5	Distan'd.
Time	2:44,	2:48,	2:42,	2:50½

SUMMARY.

The second race was for 2:35 horses, the purse being $1,000. There were eight entries, and seven started, only one being withdrawn.

First Heat.—In this heat much difficulty was experienced in getting the horses to score properly, but finally they were given the word, and Lady Johnston lead, followed by Lady Whitman, who was passed by Frank at the third quarter, but he was unable to overtake Lady Johnston, who won the heat by a few lengths. Orange Billy behaved badly before reaching the first quarter, in breaking. Deception and Addie were distanced.

Second Heat.—After scoring four times the horses got a good "send off," with Orange Billy in the lead who was lapped by Lady Johnston as they passed the half mile wire. From this point to the home stretch they trotted neck and neck, but the mare broke, leaving Orange Billy as the winner of the heat.

Third Heat.—After receiving the word Lady Whitman took the lead, but was lapped by Lady Johnston at the first quarter, and when the half mile wire was reached they held the same positions. From this point to the end of the heat the excitement rose high, both horses trotting neck and neck. On the last quarter Lady Johnston took the lead by half a length, being closely pressed by Frank.

Fourth Heat.—The horses were started with Lady Johnston in a pace. Lady Whitman took the front, and opened a gap of three lengths, between her and Frank, who followed. At the three-quarter pole the mare broke, giving Frank the advantage, who came home a length ahead.

Fifth Heat.—The horses got off in good style, but on turning the first corner, Frank was fouled by Lady Whitman, who at the end of the heat was declared distanced, and sent to the stables on account of foul driving. This was declared no heat, as the foul caused Frank to break badly.

The following is the summary:

Lady Johnston	1	4	1	4	0
Lady Whitman	3	3	2	2	0
Orange Billy	3	1	5	[illegible]
Deception	Distanced
Frank	2	2	4	1	0
Hylas	4	5	3	3	0
Addie	Distanced
Time 2:35, 2:34, 2:35½, 2:36.

SUMMARY.

The hour having grown late and darkness already having set in, the race was postponed until to-day at 10 o'clock, when it will be finished.

There are two races billed for to-day—the first for 2:40 horses, for a purse of $800—the second for 2:30 horses, purse $1,000. It is expected that a large attendance will be present, and that the day will be one of much interest.

J. B. HILL NOT BURNED OUT.

His Mammoth Planing Mill in Full Blast—A Peep Into His Establishment.

Rumor having had it that the planing mill of Mr. J. B. Hill, near the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Penn avenue, was so seriously damaged by the late fire that it could not resume operations, we looked into the establishment yesterday and found every part and parcel of these extensive works in perfect working order and in full and successful operation. The injury to the machinery, by the fire, necessitated the delay of a few days for repairs, but the establishment is fully prepared to furnish on the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms, all kinds of Lumber, Flooring, Sash, Doors, Weather-Boarding, Turned Railings, Blinds, Shutters, Wood Mantels, Bracket Work, Mouldings and Wood Work generally. This is also the most extensive Shingle Manufactory in the city, making Joint Shingles a specialty, and giving particular attention to the manufacture of Turned Railings from the best qualities of material possible to be procured.

Subsidiary to the usual and common machinery, Mr. Hill has availed himself of every appliance and divice of inventive genius for the purpose of securing the utmost regularity, efficiency and economy in workmanship, and producing a class of manufactured products that in all the qualities that constitute excellence shall be unsurpassed; thus guaranteeing to his patrons not only full value received in all their purchases, but also complete and continued gratification. Builders, Contractors and others will find at this establishment an extensive assortment of all kinds of superior building material, which will be offered them at prices to accord with the times. Old customers, and new should call as usual at the old stand, which they will find in full force and vigor, notwithstanding the proximity of the devouring element.

The assortment on hand at present, and which is now offered at reduced rates, consists of Theological and Religious Books, Books of Travel, History, Poetry, Science, Art, and Novels. To ministers and students this is a rare opportunity for additions to their library at low prices. Sets of Irving, Cooper, Scott, Dickens, Bulwer, &c., &c., in cloth and half binding. Books in fine binding, fine illustrated works. Family Bibles, Commentaries, Bagster Bibles, Testaments, Books of Common Prayer, Hymnals, &c.

In addition to the rare assortment in the book line, there is in addition a valuable stock of Stationery and Fancy Goods, which is also offered at reduced rates. Portfolios, Gold Pens, Paper Weights, Frames, Mottoes, Chromos, Papetries, Fine Penholders, Brackets, Swiss Carved Work Photograph Albums, Writing Desks, &c., &c.

☞Messrs. Davis & Co. propose to close out the entire stock, and to accommodate their patrons will keep their store open during the evenings for a season, until the stock is closed out.

This is a firm that has never dealt in anything of a shoddy character, and every article for sale there is of the best of its class. It is a rare opportunity for book-buyers, and one we opine of which they will take full advantage.
